

Boyut Foreign Trade Ltd:

Established in 1996 in Istanbul, our company is represented by district offices in Marmara and Mediterranean regions, and by technical and sales teams in Aegean region. Although we have entered the sector with conventional pesticides, we have quickly refocused our product portfolio to innovative biological pesticides.

We invest in trust:

We invest time and capital in licencing processes with long-term trials.

We never compromise our credibility by trading unlicenced products and never risk farmers' yield or the environment.

We are on the farmers' side:

We provide all kinds of technical advisory services to farmers, on-site and free-of-charge, through our team of agronomists.

Thanks to this service, we find the opportunity to observe both the developments and problems on the farms.

Our goals:

To be the leader in the Turkish biological crop protection product market through an ethical business approach.

To encourage the adoption of innovative ecological products.

To contribute to resolving the residue problem in both our food exports and domestic food chain.

We profit together:

We attempt to provide our products to farmers at continuously decreasing prices. We make our products available by collaborating with local agricultural cooperatives as well as local dealers.

We increase farmers' profits through increasing their products' quality and yield.

We trust our team:

We continuously invest in human resources and new projects. We also share our accomplishments and benefits with our team. We promote personal development and creativity.

We aim to draw attention to our sector through offering good career opportunities.

We share the same priorities
as our partners:

They develop biological formulations to replace conventional crop protection products. We aim to work together to share knowledge and promote these products which benefit human and environmental health.

Our products are all the result of R&D studies conducted with an awareness of global concerns:

The objective of these studies is to guarantee agricultural safety which is the first condition of the food chain's own safety. They are also licensed in the EU and the USA. As such they are a good model of sustainable agriculture and food safety for developing countries.
